

made criticisms which afterward were made the basis of attacks upon the navy.

"I do not," replied Admiral Converse.

"Was there any difference of opinion among members of the board of construction in regard to the matters, such as the position of the armor belt, turret construction and ammunition hoists?" was asked.

"The members of the board were unanimous in approving the designs used."

Defends Open Turret.

The Admiral stated that a change had been made in the turret construction of the battleship type, which is now building, in that a two-stage ammunition hoist had been authorized. He said this change had not been made with any idea of additional safety, but because greater safety was possible. He declared that not a single accident had happened on any of the American ships had been due to the open turret; that all of the accidents had originated in the breach of the gun, and that the obvious remedy is additional screens between the breech and the ammunition charges prepared for reloading.

Mr. Tillman here suggested a responsibility which Admiral Converse was not willing to assume.

You, as an expert, deny the charges that Buterfield brings. Are you willing to back up your position with your experience and the knowledge you possess of the construction of battleships in other navies and cross-examine Commander Sims and Lieutenant-Commander Hill if they should come here and attempt to substantiate their views?" the Senator asked.

Would Not Face Music.

"No, sir, I prefer not to do that," replied Admiral Converse, with emphasis.

He made it clear that he did not care to be brought into controversy with fellow naval officers in such manner. Senator Tillman explained that what he intended was that the Admiral should give to the committee pointers on which to cross-examine witnesses who had attacked the navy.

Admiral Converse will be heard tomorrow. Just before adjournment Senator Perkins said to the naval officers: "We ought to apologize to you for calling on you to refute such articles as this."

"That's true," said Chairman Hale, "but it is written in such a vein that a layman could not understand how absurd the charges are. It attracted the attention of the whole country, and we had to investigate."

Sensors Martin, Perkins and Gallinger laughingly suggested that Mr. Buterfield should be set off the feet if a convenient harbor inland could be found in the Pacific ocean.

WILL DEVELOP RICH MINES IN WEBER COUNTY

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Feb. 25.—A mining corporation capitalized at $12,000, with shares one cent each, has been organized in this city under the name of the Rare Metals Mining company. Articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk Tuesday. The purpose of the company is to develop its property in the Weber mining district in this county at an early date.

The officers are P. H. Hanley, president; J. F. McLaughlin, vice-president; and general manager; E. Smith, secretary and assistant treasurer; and A. G. Paulson, treasurer. The officers, with Anna White, compose the board of directors.

TO SELL ESTATE FOR EDUCATION OF SON

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Feb. 25.—In the probate division of the District Court, Tuesday, Mrs. Anna M. White, formerly Mrs. Ann M. Burnison, filed a petition for the sale of the personal and real estate of her two minor children, Allan and MacDakin Burnison, asking permission to sell the latter child's two-thirds interest in certain mining property in Beaver county.

The petition recites that Allan Burnison died since her appointment as his guardian, leaving the remaining child a two-thirds interest in the property. It is necessary to have the property sold to educate the child, she declares.

MAY BE RETURNED TO THE STATE REFORM SCHOOL

Harry Hanson, a seventeen-year-old boy, who is out on parole from the State Industrial school, will be brought before the juvenile court Wednesday to answer to charges of delinquency. Hanson, it is said, has failed to report to the officials the persons and estates of her two minor children, Allan and MacDakin Burnison, asking permission to sell the latter child's two-thirds interest in certain mining property in Beaver county.

The petition recites that Allan Burnison died since her appointment as his guardian, leaving the remaining child a two-thirds interest in the property. It is necessary to have the property sold to educate the child, she declares.

New Mining Company.

With a capital stock of $500,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each, the Silver King Consolidated Mining company filed articles of incorporation in the office of the County Clerk Tuesday. The company is the owner of a large number of claims at Park City. The officers are as follows: Solon Spiro, president; William Fischer, vice-president; G. W. Browning, secretary; Harry F. Clark, treasurer. The officers, with Oscar L. Lewis, Lafayette Hanchett and John C. Daly, constitute the board of directors. The company has heretofore been incorporated under the laws of Wyoming.

Sues for Accounting.

Judge Armstrong took up the accounting suit of F. L. Tietjen against C. Andrews, in the Third District court Tuesday. Tietjen claims that he assisted Andrews in the purchase of 500 head of cattle for R. A. Harley of Wyoming, in the fall of 1907, and that he was then alleged to have delivered to Harley 500 cattle, of which was given to Tietjen $250, or what-ever sum may be found due.

Andrews denies that Tietjen did not buy the kind of cattle wanted by Harley and that there is nothing due to Tietjen.

Geologist on Stand.

The taking of testimony in the equity suits filed by the United States against the Utah Fuel company and the Pleasant Valley Coal company to set aside patents to coal lands was resumed Tuesday morning in the Federal court. Marcus E. Jones, geologist, occupied the stand throughout the morning session, and in the afternoon he was cross-examined. Mr. Jones will take the stand again today, when the cross-examination will proceed.

Is Habitual Drunkard.

Habitual drunkenness and failure to support are the grounds upon which Mary A. Winer is asking the Third District court to grant a divorce from her husband, Louis Winer. They were married February 15, 1902, at Denver. Mrs. Winer says her husband has been a rule of habitual intemperance for more than one year and has failed to provide for her during the same period.

Completes Payment.

The Board of Education has made the final payment on the new school site, located below Ninth South street, between Main and West Temple streets. The site is 141 by 254 feet and the price was $3000, making $2500 was paid Tuesday. It is the intention of the board to erect an eight-room building upon the site at an early date.

Your Duty is to be Well.

But you cannot be well if you neglect taking Hood's Sarsaparilla when you know you should take it. Impure blood, poor appetite, headache, nervousness, that tired feeling—by these and other signs your system demands Hood's. Get a bottle today.

In Worst Form.—I had catarrh in the worst form and was advised to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took seven bottles and am now in good health, hope never to speak of catarrh will give Hood's a fair trial. Mrs. William Metcalf, Parkersburg, Pa.

Always Praise.—I first took Hood's Sarsaparilla 15 years ago, and always speak in favor of it. H. Cowdell, 237 Perry Street, Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold everywhere. In the usual liquid, or in tablet form called Sarsatabs, 100 Doses One Dollar. Prepared only by C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

There has been a good deal of building going on all winter in different sections of the city, and many houses have just been placed in a condition for occupancy. This has been done by the Goddard Investment company, and will aggregate in cost nearly $10,000. Following are the houses:

A handsome seven-room, red pressed brick, modern house, complete with furnace, at 62 Fir street, in the northwest section of the city, for Ephraim Jensen.

A white pressed brick, four-room cottage, for E. C. Wiley, on I street between Ninth and Tenth avenues.

A four-room, white pressed brick cottage on Simons avenue, near Eighth West, for J. English.

A five-room, white pressed brick, modern home, on Sixth street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues, for Robert Howard.

The completion of a terrace of twelve rooms, on Eighth West near Second South, was also reported. The building is of red pressed brick, with gas and electric lights, and all the modern conveniences. The work on this terrace was begun last fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyde purchased from Allen brothers a new, five-room cottage of pressed brick, on Ninth East, just south of Ninth South. This sale was made through Hoffman brothers, the consideration being $3700.

The sale of two lots with a store and dwelling thereon in Parkville, and also, near the schoolhouse at the corner of Tenth West and Fourth South, was also reported by the Hubbard Investment company.

RURAL DELIVERY MEN CANNOT PROVIDE STAMPS

P. D. DeGraw, fourth assistant postmaster-general at Washington, D. C., has issued the following circular concerning rural delivery routes:

"In view of the numerous complaints which have reached the department of delay in the delivery of mail, and hardship imposed upon rural carriers while serving their routes, due to the practice of some patrons placing loose coins in their boxes for the purpose of obtaining stamps, the department has decided to place the attention of patrons in a proper and polite manner upon the fact that they themselves in advance with the rural carrier of postage as circumstances will permit, and also suggest that patrons place in their boxes a small detachable cup of wood or tin in which to place coins when necessary in purchasing a supply of stamps."

HORSE DASHES INTO A DRUGSTORE WINDOW

A horse attached to a Singer Sewing Machine company's delivery wagon dashed into the window of a drugstore in Parkville, as it was being relieved of its burden, to place a sack containing oats underneath its nose. For the purpose of supply of postage as circumstances will permit, and also suggest that patrons place in their boxes a small detachable cup of wood or tin in which to place coins when necessary in purchasing a supply of stamps."

SALT LAKE IMPRESSES A SEATTLE BOOSTER

J. L. Ritchie, representing the Smith-Tonkin Investment company of Seattle, was in Salt Lake Tuesday morning to boost that city. He fell in with a number of Salt Lake boosters, however, and before leaving for the North admitted that there was a good deal of business prosperity in the international city. He expressed great interest in the western city of Salt Lake, and was developing and the conservative manner with which business affairs were being carried on.

BRAIN POWER.

Increased by Proper Feeding.

A lady writer who not only has done good literary work, but reared a family, found in Grape-Nuts the ideal food for brain work and to develop healthy children. She writes:

"I am an enthusiastic proclaimer of Grape-Nuts as a regular diet. I formerly had no appetite in the morning and for 8 years while nursing my four children, had insufficient nourishment for them."

"Unable to eat breakfast I felt faint later, and would go to the pantry and eat cold coffee, sausage, cookies, doughnuts or anything I happened to find. Being a writer, at times my head felt heavy and my brain ached."

"When I read of Grape-Nuts I began eating it every morning, and within two weeks I wrote evenings and feeling the need of sustained brain power, began eating a small saucer of Grape-Nuts with milk instead of my usual indigestible hot pudding, pie, or cake for dessert at night."

"Grape-Nuts did wonders for me and I learned to like it. I did not mind my housework or mother's cares, for I felt strong and full of 'go.' I grew plump, my brain was active and clear; indeed, the dull head pain never returned."

SELLS HORSE FOR $25 AND IS NOW ARRESTED

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, Feb. 25.—At an early hour Tuesday morning Deputy Sheriff Clark arrived in the city from Eden, having in custody Alfred Brockman, who a few hours before had disposed of to Stewart Eccles, a horse and saddle which he had hired from the Williams livery stable in Ogden.

Brockman appeared at the stable giving his name as Roy Swenson and secured the animal. After riding to Eden he offered to sell for $60 but being unable to find a ready purchaser, sold it to Eccles for $25. Sheriff Sebring had been making inquiries all over the county during the afternoon for some trace of a horse which had been stolen from Salt Lake, and was notified from Eden of Brockman's appearance with a horse which he desired to sell at a ridiculously low figure.

When arrested Brockman had in his possession a grip belonging to P. J. Taylor, an employee of the Bell Telephone company. This, he said, he had found on the road. Taylor identified his property.

FAIR ASSOCIATION FORMULATES PLAN

Will Permit Entries of More Classes of Swine; Ribbon Awards.

The directors of the Utah State Fair association have arranged for an extensive enlargement of class VIII of the premium list. This class is devoted to swine and will contain eleven classifications in place of five, as formerly. All five divisions will be increased in a similar manner.

A new feature in the prize ribbons will also be instituted. All ribbons will contain in gold letters, besides the legend "State Fair association," the date, name of the article entered, and the class of the prize, first, second or third.

Special stationery has also been prepared, with an lithograph at the top of three trotting horses just coming under the wire, and with appropriate inscriptions, such as "The Fair, for a Greater Utah." "Remember, Entries Close September 30." "Salt Lake City, October 5 to 11; Tell Everybody!"

The complete classification for all divisions in class VIII, department C, for swine, follows:

NOTES OF "U"

A new society is to be organized by University students next Thursday evening in the Board of Education rooms at the city and county building. The society will be for the cultivation of the art of public speaking. Debating societies are organized at the school and are proving highly successful. The proposed society is not expected to interfere with these organizations, but rather to assist them. Frank B. Stephens will speak at the meeting next Thursday evening on the subject of public speaking to the College Student. Music will be furnished by a quartette selected from the University Glee club. Frank Holman and R. W. Young, Jr., are leading in the movement for the formation of the new society.

John Jensen, formerly editor of the University Chronicle, and a member of the only debating team which ever defeated a team from the University of Colorado, has just been elected president of the Needham Debating society of the Georgia Washington university of Washington, D. C. Mr. Jensen will champion the Needham team which meets the team from the Columbian society in the intersociety debate next March. Mr. Jensen is a junior in the law department of the Washington institution.

Members of the senior class, who expect to graduate in the spring, have been notified that they must present the subject of their theses to the head of the department before March 1. Nearly two-thirds of the seniors have selected the subject of their theses, and have already done considerable work on them, but they have so far failed to report. Students are allowed two credits for the preparation of this work.
